Myocardial modulation of atrial natriuretic peptide secretion. Atrial natriuretic peptide (ANP) is a major hormonal regulator of cardiovascular homeostasis and an important volume-regulatory hormone. The aim of this study was to investigate the effect of myocardial hypertrophy on ANP secretion. Cardiac hypertrophy was induced by two-kidney, one-clip (2K1C) hypertension in rats and myocardial hypertrophy was confirmed by measuring the ratio of left ventricular weight to body weight. In a cultured rat cardiomyocyte cell line, ANP secretion was upregulated after experimental hypertrophy, while atrial myosin heavy chain (MHC) protein expression and total ANP concentration in plasma were significantly reduced. The extent of the elevation of ANP secretion (up to threefold), the increase in total ANP (17 kDa) and reduction in MHC expression in response to pressure overload were significantly lower in hypertrophied rats than in controls. In cultured cells, myocardial hypertrophy prevented the increase in ANP secretion induced by pressure overload.

Q: Add info to filter drop down before adding to database i am using phpmyadmin and for some reason the text in the input box is not being sent to the database. `$sql = "INSERT INTO `email` (recipient, subject, sender, message, time, sdate) VALUES ('$to', '$subject', '$name', '$message', '$time', '$sdate')"; if ($conn->query($sql) === TRUE) { echo "New record created successfully"; } else { echo "Error: ". $sql. "".`
`$conn->error; }` When i send the same things from the webpage directly, the record is added fine. Can anybody help? A: And why do you call your variable $name when you are already assigning the variable in your php code? Shouldn't you write $name = `$_POST['name'];`?
